Friends of the Plymouth Historical Museum elects New Board of Directors

At its annual meeting in May, the Friends of the Plymouth Historical Museum members elected several members to its Board of Directors.

The newly elected Board of Directors for 2016-2019 are Jeff Ashton, Bryan Cermak, Carol Souchock, and Kathy Sullivan; Aaron Frank was elected for the term 2016-2018.

The Board of Directors elected its officers for the coming year at its meeting June 1: Sally Fedus, president; Margaret Harris, vice president; Kathy Sullivan, secretary; Jim Burroughs, treasurer; and Pam Yockey, past president.

Bits ‘N Pieces
By Elizabeth Kelley Kerstens, executive director

At the July meeting of the Friends of the Plymouth Historical Museum Board of Directors, the Board voted to eliminate most of the monthly membership meetings because of low attendance by members. Therefore, there will not be another membership meeting until Tuesday, April 11, 2017. That meeting is when Board candidates are announced. We will also continue to have our annual membership meeting in May, when we hold elections and a pot-luck dinner. That meeting will be Tuesday, May 9, 2017.

We will now concentrate on providing more members-only events, such as the wildly popular “Wine & Appetizer” reception we had in June to preview our current exhibit, “First Ladies—Fashion Setters.” We had about 150 members and guests in attendance, the most ever for an exhibit preview! So look for your invitation in the mail for occasional upcoming events. Our next members-only event will be the preview for the Christmas exhibit, which will be held on Wednesday, November 16. Put the date on your calendar!

The annual Plymouth Ghosts Cemetery Walk was a surprising sell-out in early July this year! While that’s wonderful news to us and confirmation of the job we’re doing, it took many members by surprise when they found out tickets were no longer available. Therefore, we have added a second, simultaneous walk with 8 more fabulous actors. We are offering that walk to our members first before we advertise it on Facebook in mid-August. It will likely sell out rapidly again once it’s advertised there, so please purchase your tickets NOW. The web page to purchase tickets is at http://www.plymouthhistory.org/events/Plymouth-Ghosts-Cemetery-Walk-at-Riverside-Cemetery_ET45.html?SortBox=201610. Or, you can come in to the Museum to purchase when we’re open, or call 734-455-8940 x0 to order tickets and pay by credit card.

We had an anonymous donor donate the money needed to purchase a new network server for the Museum. Now we’re hoping that some generous donors can come forward and donate money to pay our IT professional for the service time needed to install the server. This installation could cost about $1,500. Thank you!

Plymouth Historical Society Annual Membership Meeting
Plymouth Historical Museum, Plymouth, Michigan, May 12, 2015

I. Called to order: 7:40 pm by Pres. Yockey following a delicious pot-luck dinner.
II. Attendance: quorum
III. Pledge of Allegiance
IV. Yockey read minutes of 5-8-14 Annual Meeting. Moved, seconded, approved by unanimous voice vote of membership.
V. Treasurer’s Annual Report: Burroughs briefed the Membership on the finances of the Society. We ended this year in the black. The Annual Dinner Fundraiser was successful. The freight elevator repairs are complete and fully paid for, thanks to the generosity of the membership. Detailed reports are available upon request. Moved, seconded, approved by unanimous voice vote of membership.
VI. Yockey announced several projects/programs that have been completed or are being planned and referred membership to our website for details. She extended our profuse gratitude to all volunteers/department heads/groups/committees, etc. who have helped make this another successful year.
VII. Board Trustee Election: Since Yockey was running for reelection she asked former president, Bee Friedlander, to take the podium to conduct the election of Board Members. Yockey, Burroughs and Fedus were running unchallenged. Moved by Odell, seconded by Vermeulen and unanimously approved for three year terms by membership acclamation vote. Congratulations!
VIII. Yockey resumed the podium and spoke about our latest new exhibit commemorating the 1895 Chicago World’s Fair, announced plans to celebrate Margaret Dunning’s 105th birthday on June 26, 6-8:00 pm at the Museum and thanked all volunteers, staff, departments, groups, committees, etc. for all the wonderful work they’ve contributed throughout the year. Yockey and Kerstens passed out free Museum admission passes to many extraordinary volunteers.
IX. Kerstens announced upcoming special events such as Downton Abbey Tea, Frozen Princess Tea, Where in Plymouth are Anna and Elsa, Scavenger Hunt, Cemetery Walk, etc. Lots of exciting events coming up!
X. Yockey reminded membership that the 2014 Approved Minutes and these 2015 Unapproved Minutes will be available for their review in the Museum Office during business hours.
XI. Yockey introduced all Board Members.
XII. Adjournment: 8:13 pm.

Respectfully submitted by Sally Fedus for Secretary Margaret Harris

Nothing Lost by Courtesy

May at times seem a small thing,
But it has the power of accomplishing much.

Courtesies

Are like oil upon troubled waters. There is an inevitable amount of friction in everyday life. Courtesy reduces this friction to a minimum. The happy outcome of a day’s work may easily be determined by a cheery “Good morning” at its beginning. A knitted brow and a grudging greeting may be harbingers of failure in the day’s work.

In the elevator, at the telephone, at the bench and in the office—at every point of contact between man and man—a little thought for the feelings of others is a pleasant lubricant in the joints of life. It reduces the jar of the human machinery, promotes good feeling, adds to the world’s stock of self-respect.

It is better to request than to command, better to smile than to frown, better to help than to hinder even in the smallest things. A courteous man and a courteous woman furnish the salt that makes life palatable to the soul.
Jean Dixon 1904–1997

Mrs. Dixon was one of the best-known American self-proclaimed psychics and astrologers of the 20th century. In 1966, she predicted automobiles would eventually have automated guidance systems.

The motorist of 2016 will ride on air, and gasoline will be obsolete as car fuel. This is the forecast of the nation's Big Four auto heads and noted seeress Jean Dixon, as reported in “Motor News,” Automobile Club of Michigan's official publication.

“Motor News” went a “step beyond” in giving Michiganders a preview of what they might be driving in another 50 years.

By 2061 as far as auto designers can foretell by means of present technology and scientific knowledge, cars will travel on new types of fuel, suspended on a cushion of air over roads with automated guidance systems. They will resemble today's vehicles with a Buck Rogers twist.

“I foresee that the most popular car in 2016 will utilize tubeless wheels that retract... While underway the vehicle seems to move on air and automatically compensate for draft caused by the elements. It can turn on its own axis at reasonable speeds.”

MRS. DIXON also says that future lubrication-free autos will resemble today's cars rather than airplanes. They will be computer guided on long trips. Rear engines will be featured along with a radar-like collision preventor.

Auto company heads are less speculative and state that it is impossible to tell exactly what cars of tomorrow will be like. Breakthroughs in metals, plastics, designs, fuels and electronic-guidance systems could radically change concepts on drawing boards.
Will Start Work on New Opera House

Construction work on the new opera house which is to be built on Main street, will be commenced next week. Mr. Thompson’s father, who has the contract for the new building is expected here with his men this week. He expects to have the building completed within ninety days from the time it is started.

Fred Rupp Badly Injured In Pere Marquette Yards

Fred Rupp, targetman at the crossing in the Pere Marquette railroad yards here, was run over by an engine at an early hour Tuesday morning, completely severing his left leg below the knee and causing a compound fracture of the right leg below the knee. Mr. Rupp, in jumping out of the way of a switch engine, jumped directly in the path of another engine which he did not see.

Free Mail Delivery Again

Postmaster Brown has received a communication from the Postoffice Department saying that at the suggestion of Congressman Beakes, the Department will have an investigation made by a postal inspector to determine whether it will be feasible to establish city delivery service at this office. The letter further states that city delivery service will be established on condition that the patrons of the office desire the free delivery of mail by carrier in preference to box delivery at the postoffice, and that the following improvements are provided by the patrons or by the city authorities:
1. Good continuous sidewalks and crosswalks.
2. Street lights and signs.
3. House numbers.
4. Private receptacles or door slots for the receipt of mail.

Terms of increases in pay and fringe benefits for Plymouth teachers were released last week as the Plymouth Education Association and the School Board ended nearly seven months of bargaining. The new contract calls for beginning salaries for A.B./B.S. level to be $5,650, for the M.A. level, $6,150, and for the M.A. plus thirty hours $6,743.25. Also, payment for Blue Cross Hospital-Surgical Insurance was raised from a Board share of 50 per cent to full payment by the Board at 100 per cent. The contract agreement was reached tentatively last week on Tuesday, and the details released on Thursday.

Old hotel for sale, includes saloon

PLYMOUTH'S

“OTHER HOTEL”

An old lady in Plymouth is getting a new dress.

The old lady is the Anderline Hotel at 886 N. Mill St., near the C & O tracks.

A rambling, two-story structure, the hotel this week was given a fresh coat of grey paint, with white trim, over the weather worn red bricks and peeling window sashes.

Inside, workers have painted, laid carpeting and new floors, and hung new ceilings.

Purchased last September, the sagging hotel has been refurbished by its new owner, Robert Gaddis, 41174 E. Ann Arbor Trail.

Rooms rent by the week and month. The lobby itself has been converted to rooms.

Part of yesterday remains on the left side of the front portion of the building - an old time saloon where nickel beer flowed, where Johnny came marching home from three wars.

The bar section remains intact. It's a long affair made of dark wood with a brass rail. The bar is surrounded. Three paintings of the three lakes near Plymouth are murals on the bar's face. Depicted are Wilcox, Pheonix and Newburgh Lakes.

"The place is for sale," Gaddis said last week, mainly because of my poor health, I think I'd like to open this bar, or rent it out.

MIXMASTER MESS: This helicopter crashed on top of the roof of the Burroughs Plant Thursday morning after attempts to move a heavy cupola (left, rear) failed and the copter slipped sideways. The pilot, Lawrence Mayhew, from the Metropolitan Airport helicopter service, was not hurt seriously. Township firemen went to the scene fearing the plane's fuel might ignite and touch off the sun-baked tar roof. Had that happened a serious fire could have resulted. The picture in the upper right shows another view of the wrecked helicopter.

The City's overnight parking ban is not being enforced because the police department is shorthanded.

That was the announcement from City Manager Richard Blodgett in answer to City Commissioner James McKeon questions on enforcement at Monday night's Commission meeting.

McKeon said he had gotten up early Monday and toured a section of Plymouth, finding about 36 cars that had not been ticketed for parking between the 2 a.m. and 6 a.m. prohibition.
